Organisation	Project Title	Grant Amount (£)	Project Description
Scotland
Young Scot	Finding Your Place in Scotland	£44,371	Young Scot and Forces Children Scotland, in partnership, will co-design and deliver an online package of peer-led information and entitlements for young people from forces families who move to and around Scotland, using the existing Young Scot National Entitlement Card service infrastructure.
England
Home-Start Chichester and District	Chichester District Military Family Support	£28,898	This project provides early intervention support for at least 10 newly relocated military families in the Chichester District for a year, helping them integrate into the community, build social networks and prevent isolation. Through tailored guidance and local engagement, families will feel welcomed, connected and confident in their new environment.
Leicestershire County Council	Mission ready: relocation made simple	£50,000	The project will create an easy, one stop shop of information for relocating service personnel and families to support with the transition to Leicester, Leicestershire and Rutland. Harnessing the region's strong relations with the armed forces community to create accessible peer support networks and straightforward pathways to service provision within communities.

Mode Rehabilitation	Settling In Support Roadshow	£29,790	A mobile wellbeing project supporting newly relocated military families in the North West of England. Through local events, families are introduced to services, activities, and peer support, helping them settle into new communities, reduce isolation, and build early resilience during the critical first stage of a new posting.
The Parenting Network	Joining Forces	£43,000	Joining Forces supports military families relocating or deployed in Portsmouth by offering advice, social connection, and integration into the wider community. By building trusted relationships in forces environments, the project serves as a bridge to local community opportunities, helping families feel connected beyond forces-specific services when they need it most.
RAF Waddington	Helping You Feel at Home	£9,600	RAF Waddington will deliver a community integration project supporting service families as they transition into a new posting. Increasing the number of service families personally welcomed to the Station; while raising awareness of available support services available, the project will foster stronger connections between families and the Station community.
