

Be part of the change, be part of the solution

Become a domestic abuse ambassador within the military community

Are you passionate about creating safer communities by supporting military families and survivors of domestic abuse?

Join our free Domestic Abuse Ambassador Training Programme and help break down barriers to support.

As an ambassador, you will:

- Gain a deeper understanding of different forms of abuse
- Learn about the unique challenges survivors in the military community face
- Explore ways to break down barriers and create long-term solutions
- Build confidence in responding to disclosures of abuse
- Share vital information about specialist support services

What's involved?

This is an awareness-raising role, you are not expected to provide ongoing support, deliver training, share personal details, or act as a direct point of contact. Instead, you'll use your knowledge to help ensure survivors can access the support they need.

Communities play a crucial role in connecting survivors with life-changing support. With your help, we can ensure no one is left without help.
